

A LETTER FROM OUR SPONSOR

CALIFORNIA
UNIVERSITY

Dear Student,

Finding the right college isn't easy, and finding a college with the right mix of people is even more difficult. As the president of California University, I know firsthand that students who immerse themselves in a solid college community become stronger students and better citizens. Such an experience helps to challenge your thinking, inspire your growth, and move you forward.

This will be one of the most important decisions you make, so be sure that you understand what you are looking for in the next step on your educational journey. Make a list of qualities that you are looking for in a university, and keep a running tally of pros and cons for each institution you are considering.

By choosing to attend college, you are opening up a world of possibilities. Many students at California University take advantage of the numerous resources available to them, such as study-abroad programs and co-ops. They also participate in one or more of the many campus-wide activities and organizations available to students from all walks of life.

California University and Hobsons have long shared a common vision of college classrooms enriched by cultural diversity. We are very proud of our partnership in providing college-bound students, parents, guidance counselors, and other college search advocates with this comprehensive and informative resource.

Good luck to you as you begin this exciting journey!

Sincerely,

Barry Bradford
